

CONDITIONS OF CONTRACT

Please consider the environment before printing this Electronic Ticket Receipt ("eTicket"). Cathay Pacific Airways Limited ("Cathay", "we", "our", "us") does not require its passengers to present paper copies of their eTickets at check-in. Unless one of the airport authorities of your departure city or transit points specifically requires you to present a paper copy of your eTicket to enter an airport, we recommend that you do not print your eTicket.

Incorporated terms

Your travel is subject to Cathay's General Conditions of Carriage for Passengers and Baggage ("GCC") where applicable. The GCC is hereby incorporated by reference into this document, which forms part of your contract of carriage with us. Please refer to www.cathaypacific.com/legal/conditions-en.pdf.

Data protection notice

Your personal data will be processed in accordance with the applicable carrier's privacy policy and, if your booking is made via a reservation system provider, with its privacy policy. These are available at www.iatatravelcenter.com/privacy or from the carrier or reservation system provider directly. This document applies to your booking and specifies, for example, how your personal data is collected, stored, used, disclosed, and transferred (applicable for interline carriage).

Codes and abbreviations

For information about codes and abbreviations on the eTicket, please refer to www.cathaypacific.com/codes.

Countries' entry requirements

It is your responsibility to check the relevant requirements for any country that you are visiting, including any quarantine restrictions or other public health obligations for arriving, departing, or transiting passengers. You must present us with all required passports, visas, health certificates, and other travel documents needed for your journey. We reserve the right to refuse carriage if you fail to comply with such requirements. We will not be liable for any loss or expenses incurred by you as a result of you being refused departure from the origin country, entry into your destination or country through which you may be in transit.

Check-in and boarding time

The time shown on your eTicket is the departure time of the aircraft. You should allow sufficient time to complete all check-in, security and immigration formalities, and it is recommended that you arrive at the airport at least two hours before the stated departure time. Cathay check-in counters normally close 60 minutes prior to the scheduled departure time, however, closing time may vary at some airports. We strongly suggest all passengers check the specifics for their departure airport: www.cathaypacific.com/route-list-and-airports. If you arrive after this time, you will not be accepted for travel, and no responsibility will be accepted by us in such cases.

To minimise any disruption to your journey, please note that the boarding gate will be closed 10 minutes before departure time. Late passengers will not be accepted for travel.

Cathay and most major airlines may overbook services. While we make every effort to provide seats for confirmed reservations made, we cannot guarantee seat availability. If you are denied boarding due to an overbooking of our flight for which you have a valid ticket, checked in on time, and complied with all applicable requirements for travel as set out herein, we will either offer you a seat on the next available flight on our services or refund your ticket in full or any unused part of it. If you are also entitled to compensation, Cathay will grant the compensation in accordance with any relevant laws or regulations, including Regulation 261/2004.

Validity of tickets

Unless otherwise provided for in the eTicket or in the General Conditions of Carriage, your tickets will generally be valid for a period of 12 months from the date of commencement of travel or, if no part of this ticket has been used, 12 months from the date first issued. Please check with us if you are unsure about the validity period for your tickets.

Requirement to travel on your eTicket as booked

You are required to travel on all sectors of your journey (by air, road, sea or otherwise) shown on your reservation and in sequence as shown on your eTicket. Where your itinerary contains connections (by air, road, sea or otherwise) within 24 hours, your check-in luggage will be checked through to the final destination shown on your eTicket. We do not accept you or your baggage for travel for only part of the itinerary. If you do not wish to travel on any of the sectors stated herein, please contact us to make changes to your ticket. You will be required to pay additional fees for the fare difference and the changes made, under the conditions stipulated in the 'If you fail to fly' paragraph of these conditions of contract.

Cancellation

If you cancel your ticket after upgrading or downgrading it to another fare type or class, the highest cancellation fee recorded on the booking since the date of issue will be applicable. For further information, please refer to our website: www.cathaypacific.com/change-cancel-refund.

If you fail to fly

Tickets are only valid for travel in the exact sequence shown in the ticket. If you fail to travel on a booked sector of your journey and you do not notify us in advance, all onward and connecting travel, including the outbound tickets, will be cancelled. However, if you do advise us in advance, we will not cancel your subsequent sector reservations (subject to payment of any fare difference, applicable taxes, and applicable change fees). In some countries, a no-show charge may also be collected. Please call us and let us know if you do not intend to fly.

Advice to international passengers on limitations of liability

Passengers embarking upon a journey are advised that one or more of the provisions of the international treaties (The Convention for the Unification of Certain Rules Relating to International Carriage by Air, signed at Montreal, 28 May 1999 (the "Montreal Convention"); The Convention for the Unification of Certain Rules Relating to International Carriage by Air, signed at Warsaw, 12 October 1929 (the "Warsaw Convention"); the Warsaw Convention as amended at The Hague on 28 September 1955; the Warsaw Convention as amended at The Hague and by Additional Protocol No. 1, 2 or 4 of Montreal (1975); the Guadalajara Supplementary Convention (1961); and any other applicable protocols or conventions and their local enabling legislation (if any)), as well as this document, tariff provisions and/or any applicable laws, may be applicable to your entire journey, including any portion entirely within the countries of departure and destination. The applicable treaty and/or law governs and may limit the liability of carriers to passengers for death or personal injury; destruction or loss of, or damage to, cabin and check-in baggage; and for delay of passengers and check-in baggage. Additional protection can usually be obtained by purchasing insurance from a private company. For further information please consult your contracting and operating carrier or insurance company representative.

Notice required by European Community Regulation (EC) No. 889/2002

▪ Air carrier liability for passengers and their baggage

This information notice summarises the liability rules as required by European Community legislation and as applied by Cathay in respect of international carriage. For further information, please visit www.cathaypacific.com/rights-and-regulations#Europe-and-The-UK.

▪ Compensation in the case of death or injury

- Where the Montreal Convention applies: for proven damages up to 128,821 Special Drawing Rights ("SDRs") (approximately USD174,000) the carrier will not avail itself of any defence other than contributory negligence and will not otherwise exclude or limit its liability. Above 128,821 SDRs the carrier may defend the claim if it can prove that it was not negligent or otherwise at fault, or that the damage was solely due to the negligence or other wrongful act or omission of a third party.
- Where the Warsaw Convention applies: liability is limited to 16,600 SDRs (approximately USD22,400) in respect of death or bodily injury if the Hague Protocol to the Warsaw Convention applies, or 8,300 SDRs (approximately USD11,200) if only the Warsaw Convention applies. Above 100,000 SDRs the carrier may defend the claim if it can prove that it took all necessary measures to avoid the damage or that it was impossible for it to take such measures.
- Where neither the Montreal nor the Warsaw Convention applies, different limits may be imposed by local law.

▪ Advance payments

If a passenger is killed or injured, the air carrier must make an advance payment, to cover immediate economic needs, within 15 days from the identification of the person entitled to compensation. In the event of death, this advance payment shall not be less than 16,000 SDRs (approximately USD21,600).

▪ Passenger delays

In case of passenger delays, the carrier is liable under the Montreal Convention and Warsaw Convention for damage unless it took all reasonable measures to avoid the damage or it was impossible for it to take such measures. The carrier may rely upon the defence of contributory negligence. Where the Montreal Convention applies: Liability is limited to 5,346 SDRs (approximately USD7,200). Where neither the Montreal Convention nor the Warsaw Convention applies, different limits may be imposed by local law (including Regulation (EC) 261/2004 establishing common rules on compensation and assistance to passengers in the event of denied boarding and of cancellation or long delay of flights).

▪ Destruction, loss, damage or delay to baggage

- In relation to all cabin and check-in baggage claims the carrier may rely upon the defence of contributory negligence.
- Where the Montreal Convention applies: the carrier is liable for destruction, loss, or damage to check-in baggage subject to applicable defences of inherent defect, quality or vice. The carrier is only liable for destruction, loss, or damage to cabin baggage if it is proven that it was at fault. The carrier is liable for damage arising out of delay to check-in baggage unless it can prove that it took all reasonable measures to avoid the damage or it was impossible for it to take such measures. Liability is limited to 1,288 SDRs (approximately USD1,700) per passenger in total for both cabin baggage and check-in baggage.
- Where the Warsaw Convention applies: the carrier is liable for destruction, loss, damage or delay to baggage unless it can prove that it took all reasonable measures to avoid the damage or it was impossible for it to take such measures. Liability is limited to 17 SDRs (approximately USD23) per kilogram of check-in baggage and a total of 332 SDRs (approximately USD450) in the case of cabin baggage. These limits do not apply if it is proven that the damage resulted from the carrier's reckless act or omission done with knowledge that damage would probably result.
- Where neither the Montreal nor the Warsaw Convention applies, different limits may be applied by local law.

▪ Higher limits for baggage

You can benefit from a higher liability limit by making a special declaration of value at the latest at check-in and by paying a supplementary fee. Alternatively, if the value of baggage exceeds the applicable limit of liability it should be fully insured by you prior to travel.

▪ If you experience baggage issues

We will take all reasonable steps to ensure your baggage travels on the same flight as you. Sometimes baggage can be delayed by factors outside our control (such as airport infrastructure issues, baggage system failures, or government or security-related screening requirements). If your baggage is damaged, delayed, lost, or destroyed, you must come to us at the airport before leaving the baggage hall or write to us within specific timeframes required by law or international conventions. Unless otherwise provided by applicable law or convention, in the case of damage to your check-in baggage, you must write to us within seven days of receiving your baggage, and in the case of delay or complete loss, you must write to us within twenty-one days from the date on which it was made available to you, or when it ought to have been delivered to you. We reserve the right to deny claims for damage that is superficial (such as scratches and small dents) or considered fair wear and tear as a result of normal incidents of flight (such as broken wheels or missing zippers).

▪ Liability of contracting and operating carriers

Where the Warsaw Convention or the Montreal Convention apply, if the carrier actually performing the flight is not Cathay, the passenger has the right to address a complaint or to make a claim for damages against either Cathay or the airline performing the flight.

▪ Time limit for action

Where the Warsaw Convention or the Montreal Convention apply, subject to applicable laws, any action in court to claim damages must be brought within two years from the date of arrival of the aircraft, or from the date on which the aircraft ought to have arrived.

Advice to international passengers on limitations of liability by the U.S. Department of Transport

This is a 14 Code of Federal Regulations section 221.105(a) notice – Passengers embarking upon a journey involving an ultimate destination or a stop in a country other than the country of departure are advised that the provisions of an international treaty (the Warsaw Convention, the Montreal Convention, or other treaty), as well as a carrier's own contract of carriage or tariff provisions, may be applicable to their entire journey, including any portion entirely within the countries of departure and destination. The applicable treaty governs and may limit the liability of carriers to passengers for death or personal injury, destruction, or loss of, or damage to, baggage, and for delay of passengers and baggage. Additional protection can usually be obtained by purchasing insurance from a private company. Such insurance is not affected by any limitation of the carrier's liability under an international treaty. Extra baggage fees vary depending on the routes and sectors travelled and depending on whether the fees are prepaid at least 24 hours before the commencement of your flight.

If your check-in baggage is carried on flights across multiple airlines, please refer to the carrier rules set out on our website: www.cathaypacific.com/carrier-rules to work out which airline's baggage policy applies.
